I hit a road block which is that I can't figure out how to apply a MapReduce function and still use Mongoose and MongoDB's official MongoDB driver. Before, I had: `// create a collection if (mongoose) { var mongoose = Mongoose.connect(url, options); mongoose.model('Program', Program); } // create a collection mongoose.model('Program', Program); // initialize the map/reduce engine var map = function() {}; var reduce = function(key, value) {}; var query = { title: {$regex: '^Test$' } }; var options = { mapreduce: 'program' }; var program = Program.init('map', 'reduce', 'arguments', options);` And now I have: `// create a collection var mongoose = require('mongoose');`
